

Relation between stability and altitude for each reconstructed variable. Black dots are extracted from the interpolated grid and red dots are the value at pollen sites.