Dear Authors,

this manuscript has now been read by two referees, and you are now required to reply to both reviews carefully. I also ask you to prepare a revised manuscript following the suggestions of both reviewers.

Both appreciate the effort of creating a tool like CREST and making it available to the interested community. However, both conclude that major revisions are necessary to publish it in CP. Apart from the numerous questions as regards content, I sympathize with the idea of moving the "software-specific" part into a supplement, together with the manual and the software itself. This is what reviewer 2 has in mind when he suggests a "methods-only paper.
