Thank you for your comments. Yes, there is the new view in our manuscript. We hope to further explore the related issues, as you said “we may be more close to those historical truths”. According to your suggestion, we will discuss the relevant factors, for example, the impact of “Chanyuan Alliance” on the war. The covenant for the sake of peace shows that wars are indeed affected by many complex factors. There are some peace ways of coexistence between ethnics besides the war. So the impact of other factors on the ethnic wars needs to be further analyzed. Once again, thank you for your approval comments.
