Dear Author,

your manuscript has been reviewed by two referees, and in order to close the open discussion phase, you are now required to reply to their comments in detail.

Both reviewers believe that it is an interesting and important contribution, however they require major revisions before publication. I invite you to submit a revised manuscript taking into account the reviewers' comments. Apart from the necessary improvements in the description of the numerical experiments, you should take into account the first major comment of referee #1, as your approach may be seen as "begging the question".

Looking forward to receive a revised manuscript,

Volker Rath
