Dear Giuseppe, We have now received the comments of the two referees. Both reviews are positive about your paper. They underline the importance of this new record performed on the core MD 90-917 and the high interest of your results. However, they recommend few revisions before publication in CP and they provide detailed comments and interesting suggestions about your manuscript which have to be precisely considered. Particularly they ask you to discuss your data facing other references that are missing in your manuscript and then have to be add in your list. They suggest also few improvements to clarify several paragraphs and sentences. Please, take carefully into account the referees's comments and suggestions and then revise the manuscript accordingly. This will improve your paper before submitting to CP. With by best regards
