Dear Authors, your manuscript received three mainly negative reviews. The referees see some potential, but I take from their comments that they think that the manuscript is not mature enough to be published in CP. Though you have addressed some of the critical points in your replies to the comments, I think this manuscript should be rejected in the present form. A severely rewritten article - as the referees' comments require - is welcome, but should be treated as a new submission. Best regards, Volker Rath
