I would like to thank second referee for the useful comments and the time spent to carefully read the manuscript.

We noted, that the reviewer did not prove the published discussion paper but a previous version. Especially, the abstract was in main parts rewritten, making the comments of the referee in the first paragraph obsolete. The rest of the reviewed version only differs marginally from the published one. We notified editorial support and they advised us to point that out in the response to the referee.

Please find our answers to general and specific comments in the supplement.

On the behalf of co-authors,
