

Figure S1: Portions of the model domain above (blue) and below (red) sea level. Note that throughout the model simulations, relative sea level varies, which will influence which portions of the model domain are land or marine terminating.