We use the following equation,

$$N(x) = N(surface)e^{-\rho/\Lambda * x},$$

where N is cosmogenic nuclide concentration, x is depth below the surface, $\rho$ is rock density, and $\Lambda$ is attenuation length. We assume density is 2.9 g/cm³ and attenuation length is 165 cm.